The Two Synods Concluded Their Programs Thursday.

THE CLOSING HOURS

Taken Up in Transaction of Important Business By Both Bodies.

The Presbyterians who held the keys of the city from Tuesday to Thursday afternoon, turned them over to the proper authority the latter afternoon and the delegates are all at their homes with fond recollections of the largest, most enthusiastic and important meetings ever held.

Synod "A" rushed through its business in time for the members to take the 11:18 I. C. train Thursday morning.

Just before the close of the sessions the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, that the sincere thanks of the synod be hereby expressed to the Rev. Edw. H. Bull and the session of the First Presbyterian church U. S. A., of Hopkinsville, for the use of their church and for other kindly courtesies; to Mr. James West for his untiring efforts in providing for the comfort and entertainment of the synod, and for his other labors which more than those of any other one person, have made this meeting a success in its local feature; to the newspapers for their generous reports; to the railroads for courtesies in transportation, to the moderator for his kind and impartial manner of presiding; to the stated clerk for his kindly help in many ways, and to the good people of Hopkinsville who have opened their homes to the members of the synod, and for their warm hearted and unstinted hospitality and uniform courtesy."

Owensboro was selected as the place of meeting for synod "A" next year.

Cumberland Synod.

The Cumberland synod's time Thursday afternoon was partly taken up with discussions as to the church property situation in the present crisis. Dr. J. L. Hudgins, of Union City, was the principal speaker. When the question of standing by the Cumberland church was put to the congregation every member of the synod rose to their feet.

Rev. Dr. Henderson gave a very interesting talk on "Our Book," wherein he emphasized the difference between the confession of faith of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and the Presbyterian church U. S. A.

Every member of the synod, 133 in number, contributed one dollar each for the extension of missionary work.

The "Cumberland Banner" was decided upon as the organ of the church and other important matters were acted upon, as well as a resolution of thanks to the people of the city for their unbounded hospitality toward the members of the synod and visitors present at its sessions.

The Cumberland synod will meet next year in Bowling Green.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Befalls Mr. John W. Terrell, While at Work.

Mr. John W. Terrell, who lives on East 19th street and works for the Forbes Mfg. Co. as a carpenter, happened to a very painful and serious accident Wednesday afternoon. He was at work, making some repairs in the livery stable of Mr. Howard Brame, on Seventh street, when the long ladder that he was standing on turned over, throwing Mr. Terrell to the floor. He fell on his back across an obstacle lying on the floor. He was rendered unconscious and was removed to his home and a physician was summoned and an examination showed that several ribs had been dislocated and that the muscle of his back was badly bruised. The accident, while a very painful one, is not thought to be of a serious nature and Mr. Terrell was improving yesterday, but it will be some time before he will be able to return to work.

BROKE WINDOW

And Entered Mayes' Fruit Store Thursday Night.

Frank Mayes, the colored man who keeps a fruit store near the L & N. on 9th street, found on opening his store yesterday morning that some one had been in his house during the night. One of the panes of glass in a show window had been broken and an entrance thus effected. With the exception of a few pennies nothing was taken of any value. It may have been that a few cigars or confectionery were appropriated, but not enough to be missed.

Fires Three Shots at Eagle and Takes to Woods at Once.

BALL THROUGH HAT.

Difficulty Originated in Pool Room on East Seventh Street.

East Seventh street had a shake-up Thursday afternoon about 5 o'clock, and bullets were flying around a little too numerous for pedestrians on that thoroughfare.

George Crawford, a negro known in police circles, and who is better known as "Trout," fired three shots at Bud Eagle, another descendant of the natives of "Darkest Africa." They had gotten into a quarrel in Wellington Berry's colored pool room Wednesday night. "Trout" was not disposed to press things too closely, as he did not have his gun with him at that time.

Thursday afternoon the two men met again at the same place, and the quarrel was renewed. The Eagle was disposed to fly, and got out on the street when "Trout" opened fire on him. One ball went through the bird's hat, another went through a pane of glass in the shining parlor across the street, and the third went wide of the mark.

After finding that he had not winged his bird, Trout rushed through an alley and disappeared. Some of the men about police headquarters insist that he "evaporated," while others are inclined to the opinion that he had learned a lesson from the Eagle and "soared aloft."

Be that as it may, the police will be satisfied if Trout of that kind are never found in this section again. He is certainly a "game" fish, and the reason he didn't bring down the Eagle was not because he didn't try. "Trout" is a tough citizen, and spends a great part of his time working on the streets to pay fines for misdemeanors of almost every kind known to the calendar.
